Federal Internet Research

There are many Federal government sources available, including courts, laws, codes, and regulations. The Clark County Law Library has created a list of links to assist you in legal research, which is available online at www.ClarkCountyNV.Gov/LawLibrary.

It is helpful to check the coverage and date of a webpage. Many sources will only go back a few years. The older the information, the less likely it is to be on the Internet.

When searching the Internet using a word or phrase, it may be helpful to use a thesaurus or legal dictionary to locate additional search terms if needed.

The number of Internet sites is rapidly growing and sites can leave the Internet as quickly as they are created.

The following is a sample list of Federal websites. Please see the staff at the reference desk or call us at 702-455-4696 if you are having difficulty locating a particular government webpage.
